

Marriage Monday Worksheet

Most of us have certain people or groups of people that naturally grab our attention when we think about helping others. It could be your community, single moms, the homeless, the elderly, impoverished children, etc... Take a moment to think about where you would most want to serve and write your answer below.

Husband: I would like to help...

Wife: I would like to help...

Brainstorm together and write SPECIFIC ideas that would enable you, as a couple, to serve others in both your areas of interest. To get you started, a printable list of ideas can be found at www.graceworksglobal.org.

Service Ideas

Action for Week 5: SERVE Together! Use the above ideas to make specific plans for this week. Choose a day and service activity, plan and prepare it, and then do it for your date this week!

This week we will:

What: _____

When: _____

Where: _____

How (Preparation Needed): _____

Remember to have some fun in the process and take pictures for the memories!
Consider making this a regular habit!
